One Planet Cinema

Families are invited to bring their own popcorn to a free screening of the award-winning 'A World Without Water' and learn what we can do to help save our planet...

Capacity Global and Every Action Counts are launching One Planet Cinema - a series of free public film showings – at 4pm on 8 September at the Stroud Subscription Rooms, to be shown as part of the free Stroud Fringe Festival! This is the first time film showings have been included in the Festival in amongst the varied music acts and other exciting activities. One Planet Cinema, showing across England over the next 12 months, will raise awareness on how interested individuals and groups can take real action against climate change. The first film of the series, the award-winning documentary A World Without Water, will be introduced by Steven Wong of Capacity Global who will also be on hand to answer any questions.

With free film screenings and discussions about people taking action on environmental issues, Capacity Global hope that One Planet Cinema will encourage and inspire groups to take action on climate change. Following the Stroud festival, One Planet Cinema screenings are planned across the next 12 months for major cities across England including Manchester, Leeds, London and Nottingham. Please see www.capacity.org.uk/events for more information and dates as they are announced.

Every Action Counts...

...is about how groups can have a larger impact for a better future. We all want to live happy, healthy and prosperous lives. And we also want the best for our children and grandchildren in the future too. But for this to happen, we need to make our world greener, cleaner, fairer and safer than it is today. Any group can help make every action count - for example, community groups, clubs and societies, neighbourhood groups, hobby groups, faith groups and sports clubs. The programme shows how individuals and groups can make a real difference to their community and environment in five key action areas. These areas are; saving energy, traveling wisely, shopping ethically, saving resources and caring for your area.

One Planet Cinema from your living room...

As part of the tour and promotion of Every Action Counts, Capacity Global encourage people to carry on raising awareness in their own communities. Whether it's showing a film to five people in your living room, or hosting their own free movie night in a local community centre, church hall or clubhouse, local community groups can get involved in helping to educate and inform on climate change and the actions we can take to help save our planet! Interested groups and individuals should contact Capacity Global on 020 3117 0102 for more information.

For free of charge tickets to One Planet Cinema at the Stroud Fringe Festival please contact the Stroud Subscription Rooms on 01453 760900 or pop in.

Note to editor: One Planet Cinema is based on One Planet Living, a concept developed by BioRegional and WWF to design sustainable communities. In light of the fact that developed nations use resources at a rate that would require three Earth-equivalent planets, the UK Government has adopted One Planet Living to communicate the need for us to reduce our consumption of resources to our fair share of the one planet we live on. Every Action Counts is a part of that effort, and communicates some actions which community groups can take to become more sustainable. Films selected for One Planet Cinema will relate to one or more of the five Every Action Counts themes: saving energy, travelling wisely, shopping ethically, saving resources, and caring for your area.

Steven Wong, Capacity Global's Programme Officer, is available for interviews on 0203 117 0102
